Frank Doss Hurt.

A giant cracker was thrown at Frank Doss one day last week in Princeton by some prankish boy with the result, that he is now and will be for several weeks on crutches. Mr. Doss was knocked down and stunned and badly bruised besides being cut and blistered about the legs & ankles. If blood poison does not set up he may be well enough to work in a month.

Sent To Asylum.

The many friends of Jo. Ben Champion will regret to learn that on Wednesday of last week he was tried by a jury in Judge Clarke's Court and found to be a lunatic and he was by the Court directed to be sent to Hopkinsville Asylum.

Mr. Champion is about 62 years old and is well known citizen in this and Crittenden counties as he made the race in 1899 against Bob Walker for the democratic nomination for the legislature. He has two sons in Ardmore, Okla. Jo. Ben Jr., and Tom Champion practicing law and it is said they are doing well. Smithland Banner.

Stork and Raven Make Visit at Same Hour at Same Home.

Paducah, Ky., Dec. 28. Life and death strangely met Tuesday afternoon when Dorothy, the little daughter of Patrolman Herbert Doyle, died, and at the same hour a son was born to Mrs. Doyle. The daughter had been unconscious for several days. Her death was not revealed to the mother, whose condition is critical.

Democratic Platforms Are

Repudiated by Reactionaries.

In all the checkered history of Kentucky there was never a more peculiar performance than that of the Kentucky State Executive Committee at its meeting in Louisville Thursday.

At one moment it voted for a primary for the selection of a State ticket, on the ground that this was the best and fairest means of getting the wishes of the people.

The very next moment, it voted down a proposal to secure the choice of the people for State officers in a similar manner.

By voting down the latter proposition, the democratic party of Kentucky puts upon the platform of its party, more its back upon the solemn promises, pledges and protestations of the organization in three different national conventions, and stamps itself as thoroughly reactionary.

If there is one thing more than another to which the Democracy stands pledged by its platforms and the speeches of its leaders it is the popular election of Senators. Carrying out this principle, it would be the logical thing for the party to determine its senatorial nominee by party vote.

It is significant and educational to observe that the only ones who favored the senatorial primary were the friends of Congressman Ollie James, while the ones who opposed it were the friends of Senator T. H. Paynter, former Governor J. C. W. Beckham, Harry Weissinger and J. C. Mayo.

Ollie James had the courage to come out in the open and demand that the party stand by its platforms. None of his opponents had the courage to come out and advocate the reverse policy.

The inner meaning of the committee's action was elucidated by the remark in a reactionary Democratic paper that if there had been a popular primary no one but James would have had a chance.

While we are on the subject, let us look at the men who are out in the open for Senator.

Congressman Ollie James, of the First Kentucky District, who fought for a primary, has for years been one of the most trusted advisers of W. J. Bryan, is one of the most powerful debaters in Congress, and one of the right-hand men of the next Speaker, Champ Clark. As a member of the Ballinger investigating committee he was out-

Death of John Robertson.

J. A. Robertson an aged and highly respected citizen of the Siloam vicinity died Wednesday, Dec. 28th, 1910 at the residence of Will Brown his son-in-law. He was buried late next evening at Freedom by Bigham Lodge of Masons of which he was a member. He leaves four children, one daughter Mrs. Brown, and three sons Charles, Chester and Terry.

spoken in denunciation of Ballinger as a friend of Morgan, Guggenheim and the interests generally. He has been lined up on the progressive side in the House.

Senator T. H. Paynter, who wants to succeed himself, has the officeholding habit ingrown. He has been Congressman, Appellate Judge and Senator. He is reactionary. During the brief time he was on the Ballinger committee his record was colorless.

As a member of the committee to investigate Senator Lorimer, of Illinois, whose seat it is alleged was obtained by the purchase of democrats in the legislature and whose retention is desired by the interests, Paynter signed the infamous whitewashing report to which Senator Frazier and other are strenuously objecting.

J. C. W. Beckham is an ex-Governor and ex-boss of a State machine. He is a typical State machine politician.

The chief recommendation of J. C. Mayo and Harry Weissinger is that they are millionaires.

It was friends of Paynter, Beckham Mayo and Weissinger who opposed James' motion for a senatorial primary.

If the Democrats of Kentucky are alive to their own interests, the Post rather fancies that they will take the earliest opportunity to elect a progressive legislature and insure the election of a progressive United States Senator, and not one "Safe and Sound" reactionary and satisfactory to big business.—The Kentucky Post, Covington, Ky.

J. H. Hillyard Critically Ill.

Private letters received in the city tell of the serious illness of James Harvey Hillyard in Colorado. He is suffering with blood poisoning and is said to be in a critical condition. Mr. Hillyard was for many years a druggist in this city and is well remembered by many of our older citizens.

Stembridge Wagon Contest

Closed Dec. 24th.

About 1000 guesses, each representing $1.00 cash paid to A. J. Stembridge for work, were made in the wagon contest which was closed at his manufactory Saturday. The wagon was won by Peter E. Shewmaker the well known farmer and capitalist of north Crittenden. The winning guess was 452 which was the exact number of seeds in the gourd.

Other good guesses were made by Mr. Shewmaker 450 451 453 454 457 and by J. N. Boston 451 which was in one of it and 453 also within one of it made by J. E. Cullen, S. S. Stembridge and Thos. A. Rankin.

Popular Dentist Takes An Outing.

The many friends of the popular dentist, Dr. F. W. Nunn will all be glad to know he is taking a much needed rest and vacation in an extended trip which will embrace California and the Pacific coast. His father accompanied him and we learned that he gave his son this trip as a Christmas gift. Isn't it fortunate to have an indulgent father? Yes! but far more fortunate to be worthy of such a father and to appreciate him and love and respect him as Dr. Nunn does his father.

Death of Mrs. Joiner.

Mrs. Harriet Joiner died at her home north of the city, Friday, December 23rd, of cancer of the stomach from which she had suffered for sometime. Her husband and 5 daughters survive her and all were with her when the end came. Mrs. Addie Payne of New Mexico, one of her daughters arriving the day of her death. The other daughters are Mesdames Peter Holloman, Hugh Norris, Ed Robertson and James Butler, all of this city and county.

Mrs. Joiner before her marriage was a Miss Schoonover of Indiana. She was born May 1838 and was married in 1860. Mrs. Joiner was a Missionary Baptist and held her membership at Dunn Springs. Her funeral was preached by Rev. E. M. Eaton at Freedom Friday afternoon and interment was at same place.

May the New Year Bring You Happiness and Prosperity

NEW YEAR'S EVE IN NEW YORK CITY

YOU couldn't drag a New York man out of town on New Year's eve, and the only trips he will plan are auto rides in some sequestered locality late on the afternoon of the 31st, so that he can get fresh air and perfect quiet. As for the New York hostesses, when they are arranging for dinners it is with the understanding that the party shall go later to the theater and still later join the throng which is bent on turning night into day, for no day was ever like New Year's eve in Manhattan now, but into a cross between Mardi Gras, a bullfight and a football game, with dashes of a Coney Island festival and a queen's birthday.

There is one time honored custom of New Year's eve which will not be cut out, that of going to old Trinity, where the chimneys will be rung, but there will be a change even in this. Albert Meislahn, the bell ringer, who had officiated for thirty years, is dead, and a Columbia undergraduate is in his place.

At the big hotels and restaurants it is estimated that between 1,000 and 2,000 people will be accommodated by each. Tables have been engaged for weeks, and the demand is so great that all the rooms usually reserved for drawing rooms are to be furnished with supper tables.

In regard to specific arrangements it is the mode at present to have everything at the hotel table as delicately as if one were entertaining at one's own home. If a dish is served that can be carved on the table the hostess wishes to supervise it, and any chafing dish article must have the finishing touches put in by her. Often she will make the salad dressing, all with the notion to give the appearance of the private entertaining with the public environment.

"The old time favorites, canvasback and terrapin, are no longer named by those ordering in advance or by the chef who prepares the regular menu for such occasions," said a hotel manager. "These articles of food are difficult to procure, expensive, and, besides, tastes have changed."

"The favorite supper dish now is some kind of shellfish delicately prepared so that one can hardly recognize its flavor. The approved menu is oysters or scallops on the shell, a consommé or clam broth en tassel, an entree of sweetbreads, frogs' legs, lobster à la Newburg, game and salad and ice with delicious cakes."

Chrysanthemums and American Beauties lead in the matter of floral decorations, with the usual holiday background of greens, holly and mistletoe berries and red ribbons. Carnations are also favorites. Many of the reserved tables will have special decorations of flowers and novelties sent by the entertainers. One hostess has ordered an elaborate centerpiece of orchids, with orchids for the women and gardenias for the men.

Some of the hotels will not make a difference in regard to the kind of liquid refreshment served. If one wishes a cup of tea at 2 a. m. at these places it can get it. But at many of the hotels and restaurants nothing but champagne will be served after a stated hour.

Though the occasion seems to spell license, this is not really the case. The proprieties to a certain point are to be rigidly adhered to. A woman, for example, may drink all the champagne and cocktails she wants, but if she attempts to light a cigarette she will be asked to desist.

Taking care of a big restaurant or hotel crowd, it is learned, is not so difficult as it sounds. When one of a party becomes boisterous the head waiter asks the assistance of his own party in keeping him in order, which is usually given with discretion. One of the Broadway restaurants which will display the sign "Champagne Only After 10 o'clock" also offers the explanation that the reason for this is that a crowd champagne fed is merely hilarious and good natured, but when lightbells and mixed drinks are served there is always trouble afoot for the management.

The price for the table d'hôte suppers will be about the same in all the first class places. The hotels that do not place an embargo on wine usually go further and serve their patrons a la carte, as much or as little as may be required. The regular sum charged is $5 for the menu prepared without wine. In the grill rooms, wine vaults, extra supper rooms, less desirable in location, some of the hotels will serve a $1 supper and a few offer a very attractive menu for $3.

Besides the hotel and restaurant celebrations most of the clubs will keep open house. The National Arts club will have a special reception for the members, and the members of the Players club, next door on Gramercy park, always foregather, no matter what other attractions there may be, to celebrate founders' night. The long cup is passed around, a custom inaugurated by Edwin Booth, and after that the doings are wrapped in impenetrable mystery.

The New Year's eve celebration will by no means be limited to the restaurants, hotels and clubs, although they perhaps furnish the most picturesque esque and interesting elements of the celebration. Broadway will add its decorative features, and hundreds of thousands of people will rush back and forth, if the night be fine, enjoying themselves by watching the fun of other people doing the same thing.

QUAINT NEW YEAR CUSTOM.

Feast of Asses of the Middle Ages Still Celebrated.

In certain parts of southern France New Year's eve is still celebrated by the famous feast of asses of the middle ages. Before the congregation is admitted to the church a great glowing brazier is placed in the nave, upon the stone floor, and a broad path from the entrance of the church to the altar is roped off.

The ceremony begins with a procession of men made up to represent various Biblical characters. At its head walk two priests singing an old Provencal hymn. When the procession reaches the center of the church six men dressed as Jews of the time of Christ step forward on one side and six gentlemen on the other. Two advocates stand between them.

"The Lord is made man," the gentlemen exclaim.

To this the Jews reply, with scornful demand for proofs. The advocates then summon the prophets and legis lators of the Old Testament. One by one the great personages of the past—Moses, Aaron, Isaiah, Daniel and many more—slowly advance up the aisle and, pausing for a moment in the glare of the brazier, bear witness to the divinity of Jesus and then pass on into the darkness.

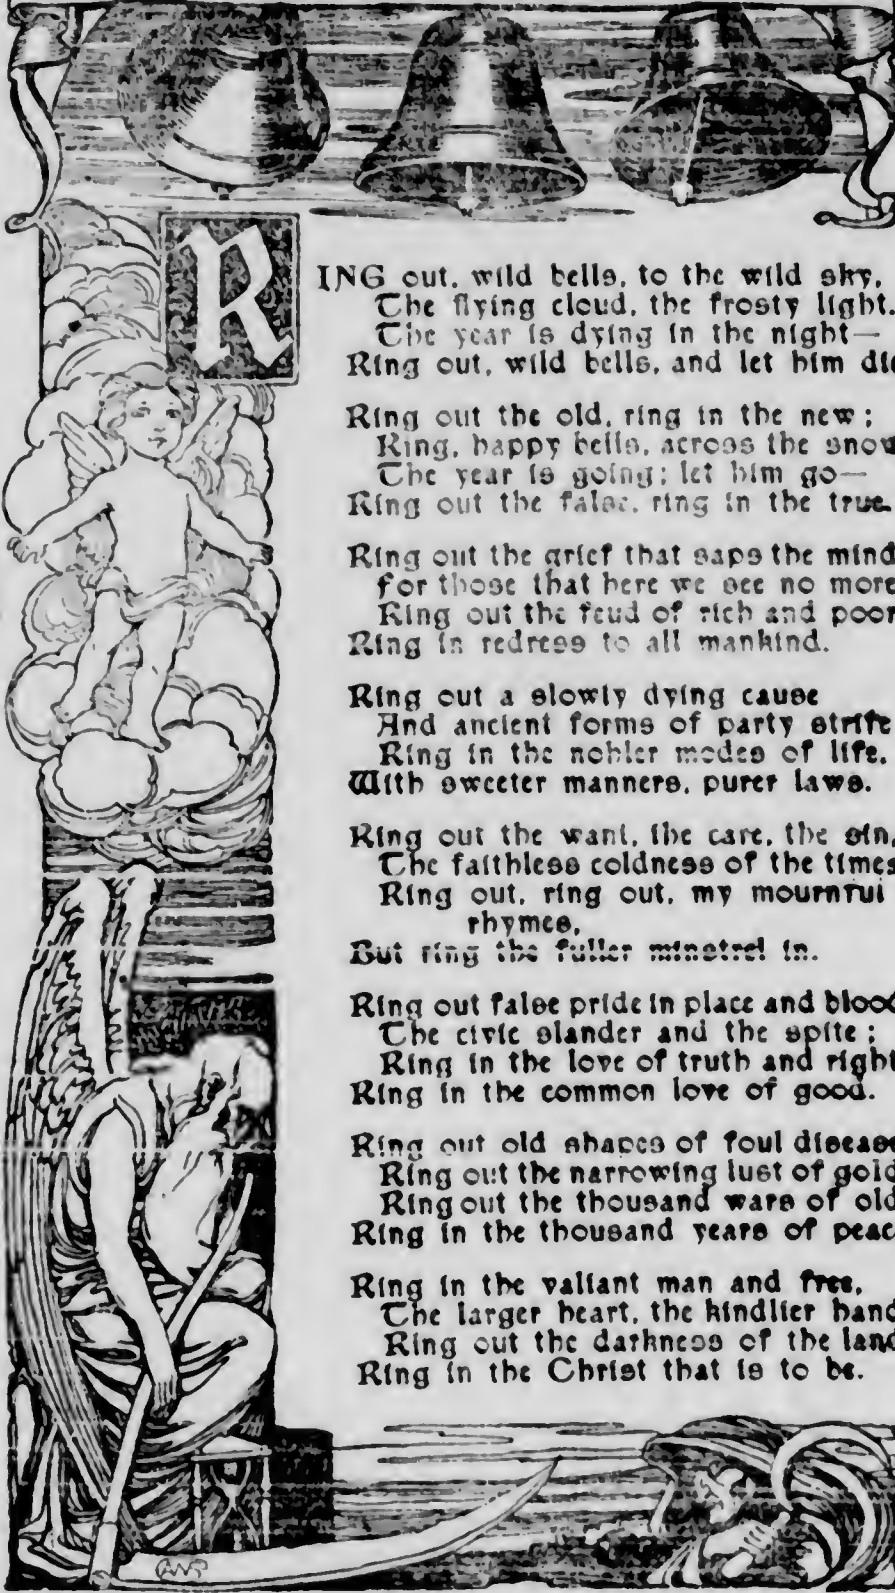

But the principal figure of the ceremony is Balaam's ass, in which the feast takes its name. The ass, under whose voluminous trappings a child is concealed, bears Balaam up the aisle and when beaten by his master rebukes him in a piteous voice through the medium of the concealed child, just as the ass did the real Balaam in the Bible story.

The last personage of the procession is usually Judas, who constitutes the tragic feature of the quaint festival.

New Year's in Europe. In London New Year's day is observed with little formality, but in the capitals of the continent it is a day for official receptions.

RING OUT WILD BELLS

BY ALFRED TENNYSON

Ring out, wild bells, to the wild sky,
The flying cloud, the frosty light:
The year is dying in the night—
Ring out, wild bells, and let him die.

Ring out the old, ring in the new;
Ring, happy bells, across the snow.
The year is going; let him go—
Ring out the false, ring in the true.

Ring out the grief that saps the mind
For those that here we see no more;
Ring out the feud of rich and poor;
Ring in redress to all mankind.

Ring out a slowly dying cause
And ancient forms of party strife;
Ring in the nobler modes of life,
With sweeter manners, purer laws.

Ring out the want, the care, the sin,
The faithless coldness of the times;
Ring out, ring out, my mournful rhyme,
But ring the fuller minstrel in.

Ring out false pride in place and blood,
The civic slander and the spite;
Ring in the love of truth and right;
Ring in the common love of good.

Ring out old shapes of foul disease;
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring out the thousand wars of old;
Ring in the thousand years of peace.

Ring in the valiant man and free,
The larger heart, the kindlier hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land;
Ring in the Christ that is to be.

WASHINGTONIAN NEW YEAR.

Recipe For Reception à la George and Martha.

To hold a New Year's reception in a George and Martha Washington the drawing room should be arranged to look like that of a century ago. Lacelike and mistletoe festoon doors and arches and be massed with pine and hemlock and other evergreens knotted with cherry colored ribbons.

The women and headresses of the ladies invited to attend may be copied from old fashioned prints or reproductions of portraits of historic belles. The old brocades, the powdered hair and complexion patches will transform the appearance of modern beauties and belles in a manner truly wonderful. A few lines pencilled on the face will aid in suggesting the appearance of the individual whose personality is to be represented. Every guest should be at liberty to select the character most pleasing to himself or herself. Of course this choice should preclude the characters of Washington and his wife, which belong to the host and the hostess. If they have a son and daughter, Jack and Nelly Custis should be represented by their son and daughter.

The minuet will, of course, be the first dance, and it should be led by the host and hostess in the costumes of Washington and his wife. If other than buffet refreshments are served, the host takes to the dining room the most distinguished lady present—that is, the one whose position in the society of the time represented was most important. The hostess takes the most distinguished gentleman to the dining room. The selection, of course, will be largely influenced by personal feeling.

In the center of the dining room is a handsome decoration representing a chime of bells hanging aloft a silver star and the figures denoting the date of the new year should be placed on a bank of green or of flowers. Bibbion streamers, red, white and blue, should extend to the edge of the supper table, where waxen cherubs, such as are made for decorations on the top of a Christmas tree, perch among the little clusters of flowers intended as souvenirs for guests. A knot of red, white and blue ribbon should tie the flowers intended for the ladies. If intended menus are prepared each may be given a personal significance by being inscribed with a verse relative to the night of the day. Any dictionary of quotations will supply the lines.

The dining room ought to be lighted entirely with wax candles in handsomeandelabra.

GIVING NEW YEAR'S GIFTS.

All France Buys Itself Poor in Bestowing Presents.

The custom of making New Year's gifts has gone completely out of vogue among the people of the United States, with the exception perhaps of the very wealthy, who can afford to give on all occasions.

In France New Year's day, or Le Jour d'Étrennes (literally, day of gifts), is the greatest day of the whole year. All France buys itself poor. The men are supposed to give bouquets and flowers to every lady upon whom they call, and the 21st of the women seek from eating sweetmeats and men seek from spending more than they could well afford, but the average Frenchman believes in the old observation that it is "all in a lifetime," or, according to our vernacular, that "Christmas (New Year in France) comes but once a year."

The practice of making presents on New Year's day was originated by the Romans and from them taken up by the Christians.

When gloves were novelties and luxuries that every woman wanted, but not every one could afford, they were the customary gifts, often very handsome ones made of silk and decorated with gold traceries and precious stones. Occasionally a sum of money was given instead of the gloves, the donor designating the gift as "glove money." Queen Elizabeth was especially fond of stockings as a New Year's gift.

Sir Thomas More when lord chancellor once decided a case in favor of a lady, who, to show her gratitude, sent Sir Thomas a pair of gloves containing forty gold coins. Sir Thomas returned the gold with this note: "Mistress—Since it was against good manners to refuse your New Year's gift I am content to take your gloves, but as for the lining—I utterly refuse it."

When pins were first invented and brought into use about the beginning of the sixteenth century they were highly prized as New Year's gifts. They, too, were made of very valuable material—of gold and silver, as well as of the common metals. The money which had been expended in gloves was then made use of for pins, and money given for the purchase of the new style gift was called "pin money." The term has gradually enlarged its meaning, and now the modern girl speaks of her pin money, but she buys silken or things with it and instead of receiving it from friends once a year obtains it from "papa" once a month or once a week.

THE SAD FATE OF A RESOLUTIONIST

THE New Year's resolutionist is thinking hard these days, smoking against time to get rid of his Christmas cigars and get himself as full of blottings as possible before joining the anti-tobacco league, making memoranda of the errors of his ways during the past year and buying new, fat, inviting journals, with 365 white pages and a cover of red leather, lettered in gold.

The New Year's resolution habit is one of those things that won't be scolded out of fashion as Valentine's day, New Year's ends and other ancient institutions have been. It is an instinctive proceeding, this making of promises, signing of pledges and taking the vows. It shows up one's weaknesses and one's strength to all and sundry, but especially to the signer of pledges and maker of promises himself. It proves that two-thirds of the world's resolutions, like pie crust, are made to be broken, and occasionally it wakes up dormant pride and principles in some weak witted individual and sets him strenuously on his legs.

But the success attained by the man who keeps his resolution unbroken through the year is sometimes of doubtful value. It puffs him up with pride, conceit and intolerance. Having accomplished his feat of strength, he has no patience with the weaker vessels who fail to be the magnificence that he is himself.

One such individual resolved one New Year's day in the flower of his youth to take a cold plunge every morning.

He considered cold plunges good for health and good discipline for a lazy

HE WOULD BRAVE AND HE WOULD LECTURE and sleep loving body. He lived down south when he began his early morning aquatic performances, but later he came north to live, and he kept right on plunging head first into a cold tub every morning, winter or summer.

He kept this up for years, and his vigor and bloom were splendid advertisements for the benefits of the cold plunge habit and incidentally to his strength of will in acquiring and sticking to such a habit.

But he had the weakness of his strength. He would brag, and he would lecture people who did not like cold plunges or else took them only six months of the year. As the years went by he got more and more vigorous and more and more impatient with complaining, late rising, cold catching persons who would not be converted to his ways.

"I rise every morning at 4," he used to tell every one who could be prevailed upon to listen to him. "Then I draw the tub full of cold water, the colder the better. Then I plunge in, and in ten minutes I am ready to dress after a violent rubdown with the roughest crash in the market. And do I ever have a cold? Am I ever ill? I haven't had a pain or an ache in thirty years, and I have never had a cold since I took a plunge."

Perhaps it is cruel to tell, but it was a positive relief to his friends when one morning he was found dead in bed at 9:30. The coroner said he had a cold for hours. So his friends blamed it all on his not having had the cold plunge at 4. Had he lived until then and taken his usual dip, they said, he never would have died at all. —New York Evening Post.

STORY OF THE RESOLUTIONS

Ten little resolutions all in a line—
Good man burns his thumb, then there are but nine.

Nine little resolutions wounding at fate—
Ten dollars comes in sight then there are but eight.

Eight little resolutions point the way to heaven—
Long comes a poker game, then there are but seven.

Seven little resolutions in a sorry fix—
Pretty woman comes along, then there are but six.

Six little resolutions trying hard to thrive—
Long comes a horse race, then there are but five.

Five little resolutions, only five, no more—
Keyhole can't be found at all, then there are but four.

Four little resolutions still must pay a fee—
Wife makes some inquiry, then there are but three.

Three little resolutions looking very blue—
Some unheard of circumstance brings them down to two.

Two little resolutions pondering what's to be done—
Preacher's sermon hurts the man, then there is but one.

One little resolution leaves a month before—
Never mind; next New Year's day you can make some more. —Chicago Record-Herald.

TELLING THE TRUTH

A Kansas editor tried the experiment of telling the unvarnished truth in his journal for one week. He did not get beyond the first day. This item appeared on Monday: "Married Miss Sylvia Rhode to James Cannan last Sunday evening at the Baptist church. The bride was an ordinary town girl, who don't know any more than a rabbit about cooking and never helped her mother three days in her life. She is not a beauty by any means and has a gait like a duck. The bridegroom is an up-to-date loafer, and has been living off the old folks all his life, and don't amount to shucks, no-how. They will have a hard life while they live together." The editor is still in the hospital.

CHARLTON MUST BE RETURNED TO ITALY

American Who Murdered His Wife
at Lake Como, Ordered
Given UP

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dec. 29. Secretary of State Knox today granted the request of Italy to surrender Porter Charlton, charged with the murder of his wife at Lake Como. The secretary holds that the fact that Italy refuses to surrender her citizens to the United States for trial does not relieve this country from the obligation of the extradition treaty to surrender to Italy fugitives from justice from that country. The question of insanity of Charlton, it is suggested is one for the courts not for the department to determine.

Had Secretary Knox refrained from acting upon this case for six days, Porter Charlton would have been a free man as the statutes required final action in the case within sixty days from the date of his commitment.

A closing remark by the secretary is of deep significance, carrying the plain intimation that Charlton's attorneys may have recourse to the courts if they are disposed to raise the question of insanity.

New York, Dec. 9.—Edwin F. Smith, counsel for Porter Charlton, said in Jersey City tonight, that the extradition of his client would certainly be opposed.

Although nothing has been decided, he thought it likely that habeas corpus proceedings in the interest of Charlton would be taken before a United States judge, probably at Trenton.

"The case will be fought in the New Jersey courts and higher if necessary," declared Mrs. Paul Charlton, mother of the accused tonight, after reading the decision of the state department in the case.

She had been nervously awaiting information as to the decision all day and regarded the news received tonight as distinctly favorable.

TERROR REIGN IN GEORGIA

Whipping Of Negroes By Night Riders Responsible.

Barnesville, Ga., Dec. 29.—A reign of terror exists among the negroes of the Milner district of Pike county due to the whipping of negroes by masked night riders, which have been in progress for three weeks. At least thirty negroes have been whipped and blacks have at last organized for defense. As a result when night riders went to the home of George Atwater, a negro, at 3 o'clock yesterday morning, they were confronted by a number of armed negroes. A battle ensued, in which Atwater was killed and also one of the night riders, whose identity is being concealed. Three negroes and two night riders were also wounded.

The situation is regarded as critical, and J. D. Woodall, one of the largest planters in Georgia has appealed to the governor for troops to keep peace. Woodall employs many negroes, and he says night riders have paid particular attention to his tenants. Feeling against Woodall is bitter among the whites, as they charge Woodall encourages negroes to act badly.

A Chautauqua For Marion

Why Not?

No movement of modern times has had a greater popular benefit than the Chautauqua movement which has covered the whole continent during the last forty years. It is an institution appealing to the needs and tastes of all classes of people. It brings the best there is in life to those whose minds and souls hunger for good things. It brings us in touch with men who have observed human life from every view point, and have so systematized their observations that they can touch us in every point of experience. It has for its purpose the greatest good to the greatest number of people. Just as the public school is an institution for the betterment and improvement of future citizenship, so the Chautauqua is an institution for the inspiration and elevation of present citizenship.

Humanity is so constituted that it demands other foods than those that feed the body. The craving for the social intercourse brought about by large gatherings, has attracted more people to the old time camp-meeting than all the religious fervor in the community. This desire of man for the society of his fellows is not a blameworthy trait. It is an evidence that there is a fellow feeling, a community of ideas, and a point of contact among the people of a neighborhood that precludes any general selfishness or hope of personal gain.

Another characteristic of all normal human beings, whether educated or uneducated, is the universal desire for something better than they already possess. This is particularly true in respect for better things, mentally. Every good speech, sermon, lecture, piece of music, or a noble thought expressed in a noble way appeals to somebody because there is a vacant spot in his life that has long remained empty, waiting for that very thing. The Chautauqua movement is based upon these two natural demands of humanity. It is a meeting of the people for social intercourse, mental uplift and spiritual inspiration. The meetings usually continue a week or ten days, during which time there are lectures, sermons, entertainments, music and every variety of programme in which people find pleasure or profit. It is clean and moral in every respect, with no taint of suggestiveness about it. It is absolutely free from the low degrading and common cheapness of the average fair or carnival, and appeals to mental life of man rather than to the senses.

It is usually customary to hold the Chautauqua in a place which is suitable for camping and outdoor games. The people pitch their tents on the grounds and stay the entire session. A small rental is charged for camp sites and the proceeds go the Chautauqua. The program is usually given in a large tent, made for the purpose. The talent is the best that the country affords. The time is usually in the summer when most of the work is over, so that country people may come in and camp for the entire time.

Maxwell Park is an ideal place for a Chautauqua. Marion is large enough to support one. A Chautauqua brings crowds of people to town who help business; the esthetic spirit is promoted by the talent which comes from abroad; the social side of life is made more pleasant by a mingling of friends and visitors.

There are a thousand advantages that accrue and so far as I know, there is not a single reason against a Chautauqua.

It pays for itself when properly established and properly managed. Why can't we start a movement among the business men and citizens of Marion for a Chautauqua? No one thing would add more to Marion's credit and improvement, than a successful, permanent Chautauqua. What do you think of it? JAS. U. SNYDER

GOOD NEWS

Every Sufferer from Catarrh Coughs Colds And Sore Throat Should Read It.

So many hundreds of catarrh victims who have taken the HYOMEL treatment, have written us letters thanking us for publishing our method of taking the HYOMEL vapor treatment in connection with the inhaler that we gladly publish it again.

The vapor treatment is especially recommended in stubborn cases of chronic catarrh of long standing, but remember that the inhaler should be used daily as usual.

This is the simple vapor treatment and only takes five minutes of your time before going to bed. Pour a teaspoonful of HYOMEL into a bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe for several minutes the vapor that arises.

You will be surprised at the result of this treatment; it makes the head feel fine and clear; you will sleep better, and that stuffed up feeling in the head will gradually disappear.

This same method will break up the worst cold in the head or chest in one night. A bottle of HYOMEL costs 50 cents. At HAYNES & TAYLOR's you guarantee it. If you want the complete outfit, which includes the little hand rubber pocket inhaler, the price is $1.00.

No stomach dosing; just breathe HYOMEL and cure catarrh and all diseases of the breathing organs. JAS. U.

His Courtesy Didn't Fail

Falling Window Cleaner Alighted On Young Lady And Apologized

New York, Dec. 29.—Politeness under difficulties was shown by David Nagle, an elderly window cleaner, and Miss Millicent Almy. Nagle fell from a third story window and landed squarely on Miss Almy's shoulders. Both sat down upon the icy pavement.

"Pardon me Miss," said Nagle, rising with a courtly bow and extending his hand to Miss Almy. "Don't mention it," said that handsome young lady, smiling. She accepted the proffered hand and rose to her feet.

"Do you do this often?" asked Miss Almy, as she adjusted her tarboan.

Nagle said that he very seldom erred in that manner and that he hoped she had not been alarmed. Policeman Miller, who had seen from a distance the old man fall out of the window, arrived more out of breath than the actors in the incident. He insisted upon taking a brief census of Nagle's bones and found them sound. Miss Almy assured Policeman Miller that her own bones were in perfect condition.

The small crowd that gathered about seemed disposed to cheer when this gladdening information had been conveyed to them.

THERE'S NO RISK

If This Medicine Does Not Benefit You Pay No Bill.

A physician who made a specialty of stomach troubles, particularly dyspepsia, after years of study perfected the formula from which Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are made.

Our experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads us to believe them to be the greatest remedy known for the relief of acute indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are soothing and healing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. They are rich in pepsin, one of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine. The relief they afford is almost immediate. Their use with persistency and regularity for a short time brings about a cessation of the pains caused by stomach disorders.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will insure healthy appetite, aid digestion and promote nutrition. As evidence of our sincere faith in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, we ask you to try them at our risk. If they do not give you entire satisfaction, we will return to you the money you paid us for them, without question or formality. They come in three sizes, prices 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain them only at The Rexall Store, HAYNES & TAYLOR, Postoffice Bldg., Marion, Ky.

Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of stewed fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The majority then start on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartic pills, etc. If you have gone through these various stages you know they were all useless, so far as permanent results go. Now you should try just once again, but try something practical and sensible, a remedy made and intended for the purpose you are trying to accomplish. Such a remedy, as thousands can testify, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed to be permanent in its results. Its ingredients are such that by a brief use of it the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to again do their work normally, so that in the end you can do away with medicines of all kinds. That it will do this Mr. G. Y. Dodson of Knoxville, Va., will gladly attest, and so will Mrs. S. A. Hampton of Portage, O.

To those who are still skeptical there is a way to prove these assertions without a penny of expense. Simply send your name and address to a postal card to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card to the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 1,300 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

This remedy is over a quarter of a century old and is personally taken by more druggists than any other similar remedy on the American market. Because of its effectiveness, purity and pleasant taste it is the ideal laxative remedy for children, women and old folks generally.

Dr. Caldwell personally will send you to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Island Destroyed by an Earthquake.

Port Limon, Costa Rica, Dec. 30.—At least seventy families, variously estimated at from 150 to 170 men, women and children, were drowned following the sinking of their island home Saturday. The island, in the center of the Hopango Lagoon, off Salvador, disappeared after a series of earthquake shocks and slid into the depths of the lagoon, carrying with it nearly all of the inhabitants.

The sinking of the island is said to have followed a series of earthquake shocks, which were felt throughout the Republic. The shocks began early in the evening and grew in frequency and violence as night progressed, until about midnight, when the watchers on shore heard the sounds of guns from the people on the island.

Shortly after that a huge bonfire was lighted on the island, and at about 1 o'clock a boatload of frightened women and children reached the mainland.

BIG DEAL AT CLAY.

Blackwells Mine Passed From Their Control.

Dixon, Ky., Dec. 19.—The Thomas Blackwell Coal and Mining Company has just deeded to the Clifty Consolidated Coal Company 27 tracts of land and mining tools for a consideration of $35,000.

The properties are located near Clay and the mines have been operated by the Blackwell company for several years. The property consists of about 1,300 acres of coal lands lying near the town of Clay, and which is located through a shaft mine located on the L. & N. railway about one mile from the town of Clay.

All the stockholders of the granting corporation are residents of Clay and the members of the buying company have been in the coal business for several years.

READY FOR HEAVY RUN.

It is understood that some new machinery is to be bought by the new company and arrangements made to run the mine at heavier capacity than it has been operated heretofore.

WAS THE CONSIDERATION LARGER

While the consideration mentioned in the deed is only $35,000, there are some who claim that the property has a much higher valuation and that the price paid was between $60,000 and $70,000, but if this is the case it is not possible to get information other than is shown in the deed.

WILL OFFICES BE MOVED?

This mine is located south of Clay and is only one of many big mines surrounding the town. The West Kentucky Coal Company owns and operates several mines on the north and it is believed by some who profess to know about these matter that its offices will eventually be moved into town, in which case Clay will become one of the best coal towns in the State.

2,500,000 Pounds Yet Unsold

Farmers Get Money on Relivity

Sales of the Hanson and Slaughterville tobacco amounting to 4,000,000 pounds were made to John H. Hodge & Co., Saturday. That cleans up all the Association tobacco in the counties of Hopkins and Webster and places those two counties in the same list as Henderson.

Total sales to date, 25,300,000 pounds.

There is yet unsold in the counties of Union and Crittenden 2,500,000 pounds.

Prospects good for an early sale of that. However, let it be understood if that tobacco is not sold, the Association will receive it and pay for it just the same as though it were sold. The Association can easily finance the unsold tobacco if it become necessary. But Mr. Elliott confidently counts on a sale of the remaining tobacco at an early day.

In any event, every farmer will get his money on delivery. There will be no warehouse receipts issued.

Under the terms of the sale many crops throughout the district will bring an average of from eight to nine cents on delivery.

Any member who had any tobacco stripped and ready Monday Dec. 19th, could deliver, and every day since that date.

It has been decided to receive the crops at the following graded prices:

The best trash at $4 per hundred. Medium and common trash at $3 per hundred.

Grade No. 1 leaf and lugs $10, $10.

Grade No. 2, leaf and lugs, $9, $9.

Grade No. 3, leaf and lugs $8, $8.

Grade No. 4, leaf and lugs $7, $7.

Grade No. 6, leaf and lugs, $6, $6.

CORN IN CLUSTERS.

(Mt. Olive Tribune-Democrat.)

John S. Massey, of Mitchell's Mills, brought to our office one of the most peculiar freaks of nature we have ever seen. It is eight ears of corn clustered in one, there being one main or central ear, the remaining seven ears forming a circle around the central ear. The grains are unusually large and well developed.

THEY TOPPED THE MARKET (Danville Messenger.)

A drove of sixty-five turkeys arrived at the turkey pens on the Lebanon road Tuesday that for epicurean purposes excelled any turkeys that have been in Boyle county this year. They brought $2.25 each and were cheap at that. Phillip Huff, who lives on the Harlan place near Atoka, raised the turkeys.

BOYS MAKE GOOD SHOWING. (Nicholasville News.)

Several months ago O. F. Troutman, who is never tiring in his efforts to do something for his county and to bring Jessamine to the front as an agricultural center, organized a "Boys' Corn Club." Premiums were offered for the boy raising the best dozen ears of corn. The exhibition took place at the court house Saturday and the display was as creditable as has ever been seen here.

HIS CORN RUNS TWO COLORS (Dixon Journal.)

C. Williams found among his corn two freak ears a few days ago. One of the ears is about half red and half white. The white nearly all being to itself, the red to itself. The other ear is made up of yellow and red, the yellow grains being on the big end of the cob, extending entirely around and about half way up, the remainder of the ear being red.

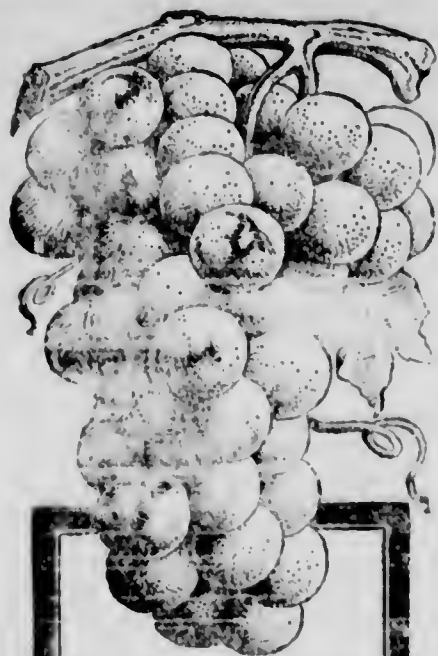

FOUR EARS TO THE STALK. (Munfordville News.)

There is a field of corn on the Munfordville and Club Run road that will average four good ears to the stalk. A fisherman got the seed corn from a cornstalk on an island in Green River that had three ears on it from which the corn had its origin. The ears are all good sized and an average of this year's crop.

UNCLE NED TOWERY

Well Known and Respected Citizen of Crittenden County,

Dies Suddenly

Mr. Edward Towery, better known as "Uncle Ned," and widely known throughout this section, died very suddenly at his home in Crittenden county Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Towery was assorting potatoes in a cellar out in his yard and when he failed to put in his appearance at the supper hour, some member of the family went to the cellar and found him stretched out on the floor cold in death. His death is attributed to heart disease.

"Uncle Ned" had always been the possessor of exceedingly good health. It is said that he was never ill a day in his life and was never known to take a dose of medicine. He was seventy eight years old.

The deceased was a splendid citizen and his rugged, honest face, the twinkle in his eye and quaint manner of speech possessed a charm that was irresistible. He was once a frequent visitor to this city, where he had many friends, but of later years he had been keeping close to his home.

Mr Towery was an ideal farmer and his farm a model for neatness. He was an inveterate worker, always pottering about the place. He grew the finest fruits in the country and the products of his farm were the best to be found.

He enjoyed a good joke immensely and his hospitality was boundless. In his death a sturdy, noble character has passed from the walks of men. Peace to his soul.

The deceased is survived by his wife and two children. Two surviving brothers are Hon. G. H. Towery, of Dixon, and Judge Aaron Towery, of Crittenden county.—Providence Enterprise.
